Trouble in a "No Gun Zone":

You and the wife walk into a Kwick Shop after a movie. You are not paying attention to your surroundings as you know the Kwick Shop is a "No Gun Zone" and all will be safe. However you walk right into an armed robbery in progress. Being caught off guard you and your wife are ordered at gun point to get on your knees and place your hands on your head. Putting you on your knees like this you know that they are going to eliminate all of the witnesses and you have no choice but to act. When the bad guys look away briefly to talk amongst themselves you seize the opportunity to draw your weapon and engage them. Remaining on your knees you shoot around your wife at the nearest pair of armed men. You then engage the remaining bad guys from the same position as you do not have time to get up before taking your shot.
