Walk in the Park:

You are walking in the local city park minding your own damn business when you round a bend in the path and walk onto a drug deal in progress. The two sellers think it is a set up and charge you with knives. As you draw and fire on them the buyer assumes you are there to steal the cash or the drugs so he grabs a woman walking buy as a hostage. You move to cover and dispense with the buyer. But by know his hired thugs are moving to flank you. You must move to avoid their advance so you move to a trash barrel and return fire to both of the body guards.
